THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

INDIANA TECHNICAL COLLEGE

223 EAST WASHINGTON BOULEVARD
FORT WAYNE 2, INDIANA

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

The Year 1952

Dear Tech Men:

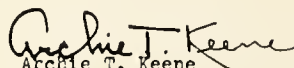

This Yearbook, a traditionally friendly document, filled in part, with sentimental records, may mean infinitely more, or less, through the years -- we hope the former.

My prayer and hope today is that all of you engineers in training and all of you graduates may, in time, achieve a ripe maturity. I trust that you will have enough of success to make life pleasant, and enough of failure to keep it sharp and zesty.

May you earn a full measure of integrity so that your life will build into a proper edifice; enough of spirituality to make your life meaningful; love, to bring you fulfillment. God save you from the mean -- and particularly from the complacent. May you ever realize that Man, no matter how humble, is essentially a noble creature; and that Man, no matter how grandiose, is often an erring and ludicrous creature.

As engineers you need sharp, uncluttered minds. As men you need understanding hearts. With God's help, may you earn both.

Sincerely yours,

Archie T. Keene
President

AERONAUTICAL ENGINEERING

Aeronautical engineering has assumed a definitely important place in present-day manufacturing, transportation, and communication. The course offered at Indiana Technical College makes possible a career in design and production of heavier-than-air machines, the development of airports, research, experimental development and sales.

Aeronautical subjects proper are attempted only after the student is well grounded in the fundamentals of mathematics, engineering drawing and general science. This sequence of subjects carries the student logically and smoothly upward through general engineering requisites into aeronautical problems—and graduation.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

The Mechanical Engineer is not a machinist, a mechanic, nor an engineman. Nor is he a tradesman. He is all of these and more. He is a scientist, a mathematician, a draftsman, a designer, and an originator as well as an efficiency expert.

The young man who has become efficient in the broad fundamental principles of mechanical engineering can, in a short time, make himself indispensably valuable in any one of hundreds of types of industry.

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING

Because the applications of chemistry are so numerous and diversified, even the most casual examination will reveal the fact that virtually all industry in some stage of processing, development, or manufacturing, must depend directly upon men with a knowledge of Chemistry. This has given rise to specialization in the field of Chemical Engineering, so that there are today highly specialized and diversified fields, such as Metallurgical, Gas, Petroleum, Ceramics, and many other engineering phases. Tech's capable department proudly meets this challenge.

CIVIL ENGINEERING

Civil Engineering is the oldest of the engineering professions and may well be considered the parent of most of the other more or less specialized phases of Engineering Science. From Egypt's pyramids to the George Washington bridge we see monuments to Civil Engineers who have pitted their skill against Nature and her tremendous forces.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

The Electrical Engineer must be familiar with his field, including the mechanical as well as the electrical aspects, from the toaster that burns toast in the morning to the gigantic electric furnaces. He must know how to select, design, work out economics and production, or replace a fuse. He is the master mind in the field of communications and today's modern automatic telephone with its instant and accurate service is a monument to his inventive genius and painstaking skill.

RADIO ENGINEERING

The Radio Engineer is a highly specialized branch of Electrical Engineering and therefore the student studies such things as Electricity and Magnetism, Direct Current Circuits, Direct Current Machines, Alternating Current Circuits and Alternating Current Machines, with laboratory work, Electronics and Electrical Design as a basis for and a means of amplification and specialization of Radio Engineering subject matter.

Upon graduation from such a course the Radio Engineer is qualified for the electrical field especially as pertaining to electronic applications as well as for the numerous specialized phases of the radio and television fields.

In 1937 the student council was organized at Indiana Technical College to act in an advisory capacity for all student activities and as a link between the school administration and the student body.

The council now consists of 16 members, 2 from each department and the four class presidents. Their most recent achievement was the creation of the "Social Planning Committee."

The Interfraternity Council was formed during the 1951-52 school year in order to better the relations between the recognized fraternities at Indiana Tech. The council is composed of two members elected from each fraternity. The two offices of President and Secretary-Treasurer are rotated among the member fraternities every third meeting in order to prevent domination of the council by any single fraternity. One of the early aims of the council is to establish an Annual Interfraternity Dance to help the members of the various fraternities become better acquainted.

In recognition of outstanding scholastic achievements, Indiana Technical College, in September 1942, inaugurated an honorary scholastic fraternity symbolizing "Truth," "Industry," and "Knowledge" by the Greek letters "Iota Tau Kappa." Invitations are extended to those students attaining a 3.5 average for four terms.

The Male Chorus is composed of students who enjoy choral singing. The group was organized in the winter term of 1946 and became an active organization in the fall of 1947. The chorus takes part in all outstanding school functions and also provides entertainment for various groups in and about Fort Wayne.

The 1951-52 basketball team coached by Hank Fallon was on a slightly better plane than that of the previous year. Tech emerged victorious in three out of nineteen contests this season, whereas last year they won only one game.

A completely green squad was presented to Hank Fallon with the exception of Charles Kay and Ralph Hanson, two of last year's returning lettermen. With very little material on hand and an extreme lack of height Hank Fallon did an exceptionally good job of organizing his players, and bettered the school's previous season by two games.

Bill Deitsch, the Techmen's leading scorer, was the chief thorn in the side of the opposition game after game. A deadly left-handed shot which averaged 20 points per game over some very strong opposition was Tech's only bright spot.

Ralph Hanson was forced to leave the squad after playing the first 9 ball games because of working and school difficulties. This left Tech with only Keith Elder over the six foot mark, to handle the pivot and rebounding. The loss of Hanson's rebounding to go along with Elder gave the opposition complete control of both backboards.

Coach Fallon has been in search for tall men to go along with seven returning lettermen for next season's squad to bring

THE COACH

Indiana Technical College's Athletic coach for the past year was Mr. Henry M. Fallon, a native of Sheldon, North Dakota. Assisting the coach was Mr. Harold Baggot, instructor in Electrical and Radio Departments, acting as Faculty Moderator.

Mr. Fallon received his Bachelor of Science in Physical Education from the University of Illinois and has since been coaching throughout the mid-west.

Tech a winning team. The "Bulging Boiler," lost to Tri-State College two years ago is still absent from our school's trophy case, and the coming season with good coaching and all out effort among players, faculty and student body, it is hoped it will be returned to ITC with a decisive victory over Tri-State College.

Anyone watching the progressive sports program at Tech this year saw the formation of the boxing team. This group of "fisticuff hopefuls" worked out regularly with the complete boxing facilities available to the group. While the group entered no inter-collegiate competition this year, the Golden Gloves Tournament felt the strength and skill of the group. With most men returning next year, a much expanded program is in expectation.

B O X I N G

Hardly had the echo of the second round bell stopped reverberating at North Side High School on the twelfth of February when Frank Carrancepie earned the right to represent Fort Wayne in the Golden Glove National Tournament to be held in Chicago. Frank's area championship came when his 10 oz. gloves knocked out former heavyweight area Golden Glove Champion Herb Weigold. The battling engineer's lead-pipe right scored a knockout before the first round ended against Vincent Handley in Frank's other tournament controversy.

In his junior year in high school, the San Juan Puerto Rican got as far as the quarter finals in the welterweight division of the AAU and Diamond Belt boxing tournament held in New York City that year—1940. Frank's defeat came by the hands of the well known prizefighter of today—Rose Ansalone. Later that year boxing fans found the name of Mr. and Mrs. Carrancejie's son entered in the lightweight division of New York City's Golden Glove tournament. The one difficulty that Frank had in that tournament was the bout with Sugar Ray Robinson. Mr. Robinson went on to win the tournament.

Although Tech's Tennis Team failed to win a match this season, their showing was impressive against such top caliber opponents. Captain of the team and playing first position was Virg Gardinier of the Aeronautical Department. Don Carr was the only member to break into the win column by winning at Tri-State College.

Students awarded letters for participating in three or more matches were Virg Gardinier, Rome, New York; Derek Lonnaux, Daytona Beach, Florida; Dave Dalglish, Westminster, Maryland; Roland Boucher, Three Rivers, Que., Canada; Al Hemminger, Oak Harbor, Ohio; Leo Milette, Manville, Rhode Island; Don Carr, Muskegee, Oklahoma; and John Basile, Windsor Locks, Connecticut.

G O L F

Hard hit through graduation the Tech golfers started from scratch this year and emerged victorious in only one out of eight meets. Golf Coach Ben Dow had the task of obtaining suitable replacements and made the most of the material he had on hand. The lack of consistency in the Techmen's game was the main cause for defeat in most cases.

Harry Ide and Ralph Hanson held down the first and second spots, respectively, on the team while the third and fourth positions were split among Len Gau, Woody Krout, Wally Malecky, Don Stinson, and Gerald Van Leeuwen.

Harry Ide played consistent and effective golf throughout the entire season but had very little support in trying to produce a winning team. With Harry Ide, Len Gau, and Woody Krout back next season to carry the bulk of the load, Tech's chances of having a victorious season looks very bright.

A "strike and spare" cloak of armament seemed the philosophy that covered the Indiana Tech intramural bowling teams this year. Surviving the strain and pressure was a smooth working Mechanical five that rolled to a team championship. Leading bowlers of the Intramural League were grouped to form a Varsity team that competed in the City College series. The caliber of the Intramural League was shown as the representatives took second place in the series.

Following them in order were the Radio's, 11; Aero's, 10; Civil's, 9; Chemical's, 5; and Mechanical's, 3. Best individual efforts were displayed by James Morrison (Electrical), with 13 points, and Don Carr (Aero), with 10 points.

BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL

Blistering Callouses pounded up and down the hardwood court at St. Paul's Gym this past season as the Indiana Tech intramural basketball program kept the minds of potential engineers alert.

First round victory went to a fast electrical team who later bowed second round honors to the vastly improved Mechanical representatives. The play-offs saw a panting Electrical five seeing the name of the Mechanical club placed on the Intramural Championship trophy.

Other standings were Radio's 3rd; Civil's 4th; Chemical's 5th; and Aero's 6th.

SOFTBALL

The Hawaiian softball team captured the Intramural Softball League Championship by winning both rounds of league play. Runner-up in the first round was the defending champs, the Radio Department. In the second round the Aero Department was the runner-up to the champion Hawaiians.

The steady pitching of Robert Yokomoto, and the ability afield of the Hawaiians at large proved to be the downfall of all contenders for the crown.

Towards this end the Menorah Club presented a film on Israel and sponsored a display at the Open House.

At the spring Commencement in 1952 Mr. Don Weber on behalf of Post 47, American Legion, presented copies of Dean Manion's "Key to Peace" to Andrew Guild, John Scarborough, and Joseph Cranmer.
